Going Green

The paper vs. eBook debate, which has been going on for several years, does not seem to serve any real purpose. Digital has become an integral part of life; so much so, that we fail to notice it. Hard copies, on the other hand, are still available, but for how long?

Unusal buildings

The Makkah Clock Royal Tower is among the top tallest buildings in the world. The clock face is large enough to be seen from 25 kilometers away.

Have you seen it?

Ecotourism allows travelers to observe and experience life and culture in a natural and often undisturbed location that lends itself to activities like hiking, climbing, rafting etc. This type of tourism often provides funds for conservation and contributes to the development of the local economy. Would you be interested in this type of travel?

TV Around the World

Cable television is gradually being replaced by the Internet. Recent research indicates that a substantial number of cable subscribers in their late twenties to mid-thirties are planning to discontinue their cable TV subscriptions. On-demand viewing appeals a lot more to people who want to watch a show of their choice at a time that suits them best. What is your view?

working days

It is not unusual for working people to complain about having to follow the same routine day in and day out. Come retirement time, however, a great number of them feel lost and suffer physically and psychologically through the absence of the same routine. Why do you think this happens?

Going green

Climate change has been a critical issue in recent years due to its destructive consequences caused by natural disasters, such as storms, hurricanes, flooding and landslides. Deciding to "go green" has presented a dilemma for countries which have to choose between immediate economic growth and greener policies. This has delayed timely action and prevented the implementation of "green" measures that can contribute to the reduction of carbon emissions. What is your view?

2 Pair Work

Answer the question at the end of each text and discuss. Express your opinion and agree or disagree. Use phrases from the box.

Expressing Opinion/ Feeling/ Preference - Agreeing/ Disagreeing

What do you think of ...? I think it's interesting / an amazing achievement.

What's your view on ...? I'm not sure. I can see why ... but I can't see eye to eye with ...

Don't you think it's an interesting / original ...? No, not really.

We're on the same page here.

I see your point but ... / I have no doubt that your view is valid, but I personally feel that...

I admire people who ... but I can't see myself doing it.

Which would you choose? I prefer... / I think I'd opt for ... / go for (conventional travel).

3 Conversation

Listen and practice reading the conversation in pairs. Then act it out.

Librarian: Can I help you?

Hashim: Could you please tell me where I can find biology books and research documents?

Librarian: What exactly are you looking for?

Hashim: It's about a science project and I need to gather information, in order to create a timeline for biological research over the last 60 years or so.

Librarian: I see. That must be interesting. It can't be easy to collect all the information and choose the key items you need but I'm sure you'll manage. Go to aisle 5 and look up the biology section. I'm sure you'll find what you need.

Hashim: I hope so. Thanks for your help.

Librarian: One more thing! The research documents are in the reference section. You have to sign and get a key. You can look up what you need and read documents in the reference section, but you mustn't take anything out.

Hashim: Can I photocopy any pages?

Librarian: You'll have to check with me first. You are not allowed to photocopy old manuscripts.

Hashim: I understand. Thanks again.

(an hour later)

Ali: I've noticed you have to use a whole pile of books. Are you doing research?

Hashim: Yes, I'm trying to. But I'm not sure I can do it within the deadline. I'll need to spend days in the library, reading and making notes.

Ali: Don't you worry! Of course you'll make it. It seems impossible at first but you get used to it. Would searching online or using eBooks help?

Hashim: That would be awesome but all the computers are taken.

Ali: No, not really. How about using this one? I'm just about to leave.

Hashim: Are you sure?

Ali: Absolutely. I'll let the librarian know on my way out. You'd better move over right away before someone else takes it. Here, I'll help you move your things.

Hashim: Thanks a lot. I owe you big time!

Ali: Not, at all. I'm sure you'd do the same!

Your Turn

Role-play a conversation like the one above with a partner. Use phrases from the box below.

I believe in living life to the fullest. My friends call me "adventure boy" because I'm very spontaneous and I love to do new things. There's almost nothing I won't try once. For example, I've gone bungee jumping and parachuting! I've eaten shark fin soup and chocolate covered crickets! I like to set challenges for myself, and I've found that I can do anything I set my mind to. I'm also a very straightforward person. I say what I mean and I mean what I say. If you ask my advice, you're going to get it!

OK. So the first thing you should know about me is that I'm obsessed with technology and media. I have "plugged in" all the time. I spend hours each day watching videos and playing computer games. I'm a lot like my friend, who is a software engineer and he loves technology and spending time on the computer, too. It drives my mom crazy. But just because I love technology doesn't mean I'm always hanging out with my friends. Sometimes I'm always hanging out with my friends. I'm a pretty funny guy, I like cracking people up. My approach to life is to have fun. I like helping others lighten up and not take life too seriously.

Listen to a father talk to his son about using his cell phone.
Write the numbers.

- How many cell phone minutes does Michael think he has used this month? ٣٠٠
- How many minutes has he actually used? ٩٥٠
- How much does it cost for 900 minutes? $٧٩
- How much does each additional minute over the plan cost? $٠.٤٠
- How much does Michael's bill add up to this month? ٢٠
- How much of the bill does Michael's father suggest he pay? one-third

6 Pronunciation

When counting "teen" numbers, such as thirteen and fourteen, stress the first syllable. In most other cases, we tend to stress the last syllable in "teen" numbers. When using these words to talk about quantity, time, or money, stress the second syllable.

In "ten" numbers, such as twenty and thirty, always stress the first syllable.

Listen and repeat the sentences. Circle the correctly stressed numbers.

8 Reading

Before Reading

Has the Internet ever helped you meet or reconnect with a friend? Explain.

AMAZING INTERNET CONNECTIONS

We all use the Internet to connect with people. Using email, social networking sites, and instant messaging are ordinary ways that people connect. But at times, the Internet has been used to connect ordinary people in extraordinary ways.

SAVING A LIFE

12-year-old Sean Redden from Denton, Texas, was in on the Internet, playing a cyber fantasy world game. Suddenly someone came online, asking for help. The person said she was a Finnish business student who was locked in her college's computer lab. She said she was having an asthma attack and couldn't breathe.

Redden wasn't sure if this was part of the game as sometimes a few people lie on the Net. However, as he later told the Dallas Morning News, he decided it was, "too real to be a joke." So Redden called the police. With the additional help of international phone operators, Finnish paramedics found 20-year-old Tara Laintinen and gave her the medical attention she needed. Without the Internet and the efforts of a 12-year-old boy half a world away, she might not have survived.

FINDING YOUR DOUBLE

It was just an ordinary night on a crowded subway car for Patrick Swales, a 21-year old web designer in New York City. The car had just stopped at a station and the doors opened. Suddenly, he saw himself waiting at the platform. But the clothes were not really his style. What was he doing waiting there? He should be in the car. But he was in the car! By the time he realized that he had just run into his double, the doors had shut and they were moving. At that instant, their eyes met. Disbelief, amusement, wonder were all conveyed in that one look! They both raised a hand in an attempt to catch each other but it was too late.

Shaken by the encounter and determined to find his double, Patrick came up with a unique idea. He created a website called subwaymydouble.com. He posted his own photo and a description of the man he had seen in the subway, in the hope that someone would see it and make contact. He got the call two days later.

Now Patrick and his double are best friends. His name is Manuel and he is in New York studying web design! Patrick and Manuel have decided to take themselves out of the public eye, so they have stopped updating the site. Patrick posted this message on the website: "In our best interest, there will be no more updates to this website. Unlike popular TV series, you will have to continue the story yourselves. Best wishes to all and may you find your double someday."

REUNITED... 60 YEARS LATER

Asma, a 75-year-old grandmother of eight, enjoyed telling her grandchildren stories about her youth. These stories usually featured Sabah, Asma's best childhood friend. Asma and Sabah had been as close as sisters. Then, when the girls were 15, Sabah's family moved away and the girls lost contact. But Asma never forgot her childhood friend.

One day, Asma was telling her 13-year-old grandchild, Ali, a story about Sabah, when Ali asked, "Why don't you try to find her?" Ali got out his laptop and showed Asma how to surf the Web. A mere 30 minutes later, they had found Sabah! Asma's hands trembled as she dialed her old friend's phone number. When Sabah answered and Asma identified herself, Sabah burst into tears. By coincidence, Sabah was now living nearby.

Sixty years later, the women are inseparable once again. "My life has

2 Crime Doesn't Pay

1 Listen and Discuss

1. Discuss one or two famous crimes. Who was involved? What happened? Where and when did it happen?
2. Read the newspaper headlines. Then read the newspaper articles about foolish crimes. Which headline matches which article?
3. Discuss the articles. Which criminal do you think is the most foolish? Why?

a British Burglar Says “Sorry” With Flowers

b Killer Sentenced to Die for Second Time

c Credit Card Thief Signs Own Name

d The Impatient Inmate

e Paper Boy Steals Truck to Speed Up Deliveries

f Criminals with Big Plans, Small Car

1 The important Inmate

GRAYSON, California, USA — An inmate who was just a day away from being released from jail fled the county prison on Thursday, according to the Grayson sheriff's department. When Bob Newton, 32, saw a gate that had been opened for a truck, he couldn't resist the opportunity to escape. Deputy Royjindar Singh saw Newton run through the gate and disappear into a cornfield. Newton is being pursued by a K-9 unit, a helicopter, police deputies, and the California Highway Patrol. Newton had been serving a five-day sentence for a misdemeanor reckless driving charge. When caught, Newton could now face up to a year in state prison.

2 Criminals with big plans small car

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia — Malaysian police reported on Tuesday that two armed robbers stole a car, then hijacked a security van with $1.3 million inside. However, the robbers encountered a problem when they tried to transfer the money to their getaway car. The car the robbers had stolen was a compact car. It was so small that it could not carry all of the cash, and the robbers were forced to abandon more than half of it!

Credit card thief signs own name

ROSARIO, Argentina — Argentine police didn't have much of a challenge finding a man accused of using a stolen credit card. The man used the credit card, then signed his own name on the receipts! The credit card was reported stolen from an unlocked apartment last month. According to the police, Alfredo Ramirez, 21, had used the credit card to buy a cappuccino at a coffee house and to buy milk and cereal at a grocery store. The next time he tried to use the stolen card, it was declined and seized. Ramirez has been charged with three counts of unauthorized use of a credit card.

3. true Criminals with Big Plans, Small Car is about a hijacking and a robbery.
4. true Criminals with Big Plans, Small Car tells the story of robbers who did not prepare well for their crime.
5. false The Impatient Inmate reports on a robbery.

2 Pair Work

Think of a crime story that you heard or read about in the news. Tell your partner about it.

I have heard a crime story that a man tried to kill his three brothers for the inheritance. A wealthy family has many cars, houses, and lands. When the head of the family died, the greed for the wealth affected the sons so that family conflict led to violence. One day the youngest brother made a conspiracy to fire his brothers who were sleeping in a wooden house which caught fire quickly so the family were burned and died, and the criminal brother was taken to prison.

3 Grammar

The Passive المجهول

Use the passive to put the focus on an action, rather than who did the action.
The passive is formed with be (any tense) + past participle.

- The crime was committed early in the morning.
- The murder weapon has been found.
- The murderer will be brought to justice.

To include who did the action, use the preposition by.

- The burglar was arrested by the police.

Note: Newspapers often use the passive to report crime stories.

Past Perfect and Past Perfect Progressive الماضي التام و الماضي المستمر

We use the past perfect to talk about an activity or event that was completed before another activity or event in the past.

- Reiko had forgotten to lock the door before she left the house.
- The criminal had already escaped by the time the police arrived.

We use the past perfect progressive when the activity was in progress at the time another activity or event happened in the past.

- Juan had been getting cash from the ATM when he was mugged.
- The driver had been swerving between lanes when the police officer stopped him.

Crime Puzzles

The Case of the Stolen Jewels

Detective Colmes was at the coffee shop around the corner when he learned that Jones's Jewelry had been broken into. He arrived at the scene of the burglary in moments.

Mr. Jones, the owner of the store, explained what had happened. "I arrived this morning to open up the store. As I walked up to my shop, I noticed a lot of broken glass on the pavement. I looked up and realized that the display window had been broken." Colmes looked out the broken window at the sidewalk, littered with glass. Mr. Jones continued, "Then I saw that all of the jewelry from the display window was gone. The doors were still locked, so this must be where the burglar broke in!"

"Why didn't the alarm go off?" asked Colmes. "It's a strange coincidence," said Mr. Jones. "I removed our old alarm system yesterday and made an appointment to have a new one installed today."

Colmes looked around at the empty jewelry cases. "I assume your jewelry was insured?"

"Of course!" said Mr. Jones. "Thank goodness for that!"

Colmes nodded and said, "Mr. Jones, I believe there was a crime indeed. And it was committed by you."

What crime does Colmes suspect Mr. Jones of committing? Why?

The Case of the Bowling Alley Murder

The Center Street Bowling Alley, the oldest bowling alley in the city, closed at midnight. At 4:00 A.M., the janitor found a terrible sight: a man with a knife in his back lying in one of the lanes. Detective Colmes quickly arrived at the scene with a swarm of police officers.

"Anybody know the victim?" asked Colmes. "I do," said one of the officers. "That's Bob Reynolds. He's running for councilman. He and Mike Jenner have been having a bitter campaign battle."

"Perhaps we should pay Mr. Jenner a visit," said Colmes. Before leaving the bowling alley, Colmes took his cell phone out of his pocket and left it behind.

On arriving at Mike Jenner's house, Colmes told Jenner, "I have some grim news. Bob Reynolds has been murdered."

"No! I can't believe it!" cried Jenner.

"We'd like to speak with you about the murder. But first, I need to get back to the police station to file the report. Can you meet me at the station?"

"Of course. I'll help in any way I can."

"I'll give you a call," Colmes patted his pocket. "Uh oh, I must've left my cell phone at the bowling alley. Would you mind picking it up and bringing it with you to the station?"

Jenner looked confused, but said, "Sure. I'll do anything to help with the investigation."

Later that day, Jenner brought Colmes's cell phone to the station. He was arrested and charged with murder. Why?

Answer

The Case of the Stolen Jewels:

Detective Colmes suspects that Mr. Jones took the jewelry himself and pretended that there had been a burglary so he could collect insurance money. The broken window is Colmes's clue. If someone had broken into the shop, the broken glass should have been on the inside of the shop. Since it was outside the store, the window must have been broken from inside.

Answer

The Case of the Bowling Alley Murder:

Detective Colmes never told Mr. Jenner in which bowling alley the murder took place. Yet Mr. Jenner knew which bowling alley to go to for Colmes's phone. Mr. Jenner must have known where the murder took place because he was there!

After Reading

Answer true or false.

1. false Detective Colmes was at the police station when he heard about the robbery.
2. false The broken glass was inside the store.
3. false The Center Street Bowling Alley is the only bowling alley in the city.
4. false Mike Jenner was Bob Reynolds's friend.
5. true Colmes left his cell phone at the bowling alley on purpose.

Writing Corner

When you write an article, a story for a newspaper or magazine:

- open with an account of an event that has happened recently; if a reader is attracted by the first few lines, they are more likely to read the whole story.
- notice that articles which provide the account of an event do not usually present things in natural order (chronologically); Use a variety of verb tenses to jump back and forth in past time: What happened? What had happened?; What was going to happen (but probably didn't)?; What has happened?
- use time markers to help your reader follow the order of events in the narrative: Before...; Later that day ...; Soon after ...; When ...; While ...; and so on.

Keep in mind that such articles are usually quite 'dense', i.e. they contain a lot of information in little space

The doctor who murdered his patients:

Harold Shipman looked like a kind, friendly family doctor, but in 2000, when he was 54. On 31 January 2000, he was found guilty of the murder of 15 patients under his care his total number of victims was approximately 250. He was sent to prison for life. He killed approximately 250 of his patients between 1975 and 1998 and the police believe he probably killed many more than this, perhaps as many as 355.

Most of the people he killed were elderly women. At that time only one doctor needed to sign a death certificate and nobody thought this nice family doctor could be a murderer. He usually killed the women in their own homes, by giving them injections of a drug called diamorphine. He was caught in 1999 when he changed the will of an elderly patient to leave £386,000 to him. Nobody knows why Shipman killed all these people. He was sent to prison for life but he committed suicide in prison in January 2004. He was found hanging in his cell in 2004.

1 Listen and Discuss

In pairs, tell each other five things you expect a hotel to have. Then read about these four unusual hotels. Share with each other how each hotel is different from what you expected.

Jules' Undersea Lodge Florida, USA

Undoubtedly, most people have never been to a hotel like Jules' Undersea Lodge before. This extremely unusual hotel, located in Key Largo, Florida, is on the ocean floor! Guests scuba dive to the hotel's one unit, which is over 19 feet (six meters) below the surface. The unit includes two bedrooms, a television, and 50-inch (127-centimeter) circular windows that offer views of passing sea life.

Capsule hotels Throughout Japan

In recent years, capsule hotels have gained widespread popularity in Japan. Capsule hotels are hotels in which guests stay in a small sleeping space that is just big enough for a bed. There is so little room that some people can scarcely sit up in these capsules. However, in expensive cities, capsule hotels offer a relatively inexpensive alternative to more traditional hotels.

Ariau Amazon Towers Hotel Manaus, Brazil

Ariau Amazon Towers Hotel in Manaus, Brazil, is the world's largest commercial tree house. Amazingly, Ariau's towers are built at the level of the rain forest treetops, about 72 feet (22 meters) in the air. The towers are linked together by four miles (six kilometers) of wooden catwalks. This very unusual setting gives guests the unique opportunity to experience the plant and animal life of the rain forest canopy while leaving the rain forest's ecosystem undisturbed.

The Kakslauttanen Hotel

Lapland, Finland

In the heart of Finnish Lapland, 155 miles (250 kilometers) north of the Arctic Circle, lies a truly magical place. The Kakslauttanen Hotel offers guests the opportunity to stay overnight in either a snow or glass igloo. Those who choose the glass igloos can enjoy the night skies and the stunning Northern Lights from the comfort of their own bed. Luckily, the hotel provides cozy, extra-warm sleeping bags for the guests who choose to sleep in snow igloos!

Quick Check ✓

A. Vocabulary. Complete the paragraph with words from the box.

commercial	relatively	undisturbed ecosystem	surface	widespread

I live in a beautiful area of Panama that is very popular with tourists. In the last few years, there has been (1) widespread development of large, impersonal hotels. Lately, I've been thinking about opening a small, friendly hotel. It would be (2) relatively close to the center of town, but far enough away that the guests would be (3) undisturbed by the noise and traffic. I'd like my hotel to have a view of the water. There's nothing I like better than to watch the sun reflect off the (4) surface of a lake. I'd also like to run a wildlife park close to the hotel. I wouldn't charge admission to the park because I don't think enjoying nature should be a (5) commercial activity. However, I'd limit the number of people who could enter the park each day, as too many visitors would disrupt the (6) ecosystem.

B. Comprehension. Answer true or false.

- true Capsule hotels are popular in Japan.
- false Guests take a boat to Jules' Undersea Lodge.
- false Jules' Undersea Lodge has small, square windows.
- false The Kakslauttanen Hotel gives guests the opportunity to explore the rain forest canopy.
- true Capsule hotels provide an inexpensive alternative to traditional hotels.
- false Guests at the Arian Amazon Towers Hotel have a negative effect on the rain forest's ecosystem.

3 Grammar

Adverbs of Degree

ضمائر الشدة أو درجة الأفعال

Adverbs of degree tell us about the intensity of a verb, adjective, or other adverbs.

Some common adverbs of degree are:

absolutely	completely	hardly	quite	so
almost	enough	just	rather	too barely	extremely	nearly	scarcely	very

تخبرنا هذه الضمائر عن شدة الأفعال
و الصفات و كذلك الضمائر الأخرى
أدناه بعض ضمائر الشدة الشائعة

Adverbs of degree usually go before the main verb they modify.

I've almost finished packing.

I nearly missed my flight.

Adverbs of degree usually go before the adjective or adverb they modify.

The travel agent was extremely helpful.

He read the map very carefully.

When enough is used as an adverb of degree, it is placed after adjectives and adverbs.

Is your coffee hot enough?

You are not speaking loudly enough.

Sentence Adverbs

Sentence adverbs modify an entire sentence, or a whole clause within a sentence.

They indicate the attitude of the speaker. Some common sentence adverbs are:

actually	certainly	frankly*	obviously	probably admittedly*	clearly	honestly*	officially*	undoubtedly apparently	evidently	naturally*	presumably	(un)fortunately*

(*) Some sentence adverbs usually go at the beginning of a sentence.

Frankly, I'm disappointed in the quality of this hotel.

Other sentence adverbs can go after the verb be, before simple tenses of other verbs, or after the auxiliary in a compound verb.

You are obviously having a good time.

He certainly spent a lot of money on this trip.

The flight has undoubtedly left by now.

A. Rewrite each sentence to include the adverb of degree.

1. We have recovered from our trip. (almost) We have almost recovered from our trip.

2. We ate anything on the airplane. (hardly)

١- We hardly ate anything on the airplane

3. The food was bland for me. (too)

٢- The food was too bland for me

4. The flight attendant dropped my meal on me. (nearly)

٣- The flight attendant nearly dropped my meal

5. Sleeping on the train was uncomfortable. (rather)

٤- Sleeping on the train was rather uncomfortable

6. We were exhausted by the end of our trip. (absolutely)

٥- We were absolutely exhausted by the end of our trip

7. The airplane seat wasn't big for me. (enough)

٦- the airplane seat wasn't big enough for me

B. Complete the paragraph with the sentence adverbs from the box. Sometimes more than one answer is possible.

actually	indeed	obviously	probably however	interestingly	presumably	surprisingly

Staying in the Abraj Al-Bait hotel in Makkah, Saudi Arabia, is an amazing experience. (1) actually it is a complex of seven skyscraper hotels. (2) surprisingly, the central hotel tower has the world's largest clock face and, (3) interestingly, the tallest tower in the complex is (4) indeed the tallest building in Saudi Arabia, with a height of 601 meters. The hotel is very close to Islam's most sacred site, the Great Mosque of Makkah. The hotel complex was (5) obviously built to accommodate pilgrims of the Hajj that visit Makkah every year from all parts of the Muslim world (6) however, it also welcomes visitors to Makkah throughout the year, even though the greatest concentration of visitors is most (7) probably during the Hajj. The Abraj Al-Bait has a five-story shopping mall and a parking garage capable of holding over a thousand vehicles, (8) presumably both for the visitors of the mall and for the hotel guests.

C. Read the following facts about another unusual hotel in another country. Then write a paragraph about it, using adverbs of degree and sentence adverbs.

- The hotel is located on the Torne River, 124 miles (200 kilometers) north of the Arctic Circle.
- The hotel is the biggest igloo in the world.
- It melts into the river every spring and is recreated every winter.
- The temperature inside the hotel is 23° Fahrenheit (-5° Celsius).

Attendant: Flight C458 is ready for takeoff. Please ensure your seatbelts are fastened and your seats are in the upright position.

Passenger: Excuse me?

Attendant: Yes? Can I get something for you?

Passenger: No, but I wonder if I can ask you a question?

Attendant: Certainly.

Passenger: I see that there's an empty row near the front of the plane. I was wondering if it would be possible to change seats. I usually try to get some sleep during red-eye flights, and it would be much easier if I could spread out.

Attendant: Unfortunately, that won't be possible. It's against our policy for passengers to leave their assigned seats on this airline.

Passenger: Well, that's a crummy policy. I don't get it. Other airlines allow it. Why should passengers be crammed together when there are open seats on the flight?

Attendant: Please try to understand. The problem is that if we gave you the seat, it wouldn't be fair to other passengers who might also want the open seat.

Passenger: That's a drag. Especially since I requested a window seat at the front of the plane, and they put me on the aisle near the back!

Attendant: Could I see your ticket, please?

Passenger: Sure, why?

Attendant: Sir, the empty window seat at the front of the plane is your seat! Your seat is number 3, not 33.

6 Pronunciation

A. Words like backpack and water bottle are called compound nouns because they are made up of two separate nouns. The stress goes on the first part of the compound noun. Say each sentence. Then listen to see if you stressed the compound nouns correctly.

1. Throw a couple of trash bags in your backpack for dirty laundry.
2. Keep your sunglasses and water bottle in an easily accessible front compartment.
3. Some people like to bring a notebook or journal to write about their travels.
4. You packed everything except your toothpaste and toothbrush.
5. I'll look for a postcard in my mailbox every day!

B. Find compound nouns in the passages about hotels and in the conversation you read. Underline and practice reading them aloud. Remember to stress the first part.

7 Vocabulary Building

A. You will see these words in the reading on pages 40 and 41. Match the words with their meanings.

B. Check your answers with a partner. If you do not understand the meaning of a word, look it up in a dictionary.

8 Reading

Before Reading

1. Eco- means "related to the earth or environment." What do you think ecotourism means?
2. Read the passage and underline all the words and phrases that can help you understand what ecotourism means.

Ecotourism: See the World While Saving It

Imagine vacationing in a place of stunning, natural beauty. Picture yourself relaxing on a pristine beach in Belize, exploring the desert on a camel in Riyadh, or following lions and zebras in Kenya. Now imagine that while enjoying these experiences, you are also helping to preserve the environment, protect wildlife, and support local communities. Sound too good to be true? It isn't! Such vacations are part of the fastest-growing trend in the travel industry. The trend is called ecotourism.

While ecotourism was almost unheard of before the 1990s, it has quickly become a multi-billion dollar industry. But what exactly is ecotourism? These are some of its characteristics:

- It involves travel to natural, often remote, destinations. These are often protected areas where development is limited.
- Ecotourism destinations focus on recycling, water conservation, and using renewable energy sources.
- It builds environmental awareness. As visitors explore an area, they also learn about it.
- It provides an economic incentive to preserve the environment and raises money to help protect it.
- It creates financial opportunities and jobs for the local population.

Costa Rica was one of the first ecotourism success stories. At one time, Costa Rica had the highest rate of deforestation in all of Latin America. However, since ecotourism, there has been a dramatic reduction in deforestation. Now, more than a quarter of Costa Rica's land is protected from development. Costa Rica is now the world's top ecotourism destination. Amazingly, this small country of five million people has about three million visitors per year.

Stacy Davison is one of the three million tourists who chose to visit Costa Rica this year. "We wanted to explore a country that was largely unspoiled by development. And, boy, did we get what we were looking for. We saw beautiful beaches, lush rainforest, and exotic wildlife." Stacy is especially enthusiastic about a wildlife refuge she and her husband visited during their trip. "Getting there took four hours by bus along an unpaved road. But it was so beautiful that it was worth it. We hiked the trails and took a tour through the rain forest canopy. Our guide showed us how to poke a stick into a termite nest to get a snack (They have a nutty flavor!), and how to use live leaf-cutter ants to create stitches for a cut. It was quite an amazing experience!"

Stacy also enjoyed knowing that the money she was spending on her vacation was being used in environmentally responsible ways. She stayed in locally-owned, environmentally-friendly hotels that grow their own fruits and vegetables, and use renewable sources of energy such as wind and solar power.

Undoubtedly, ecotourism plays a critical role in preserving the land in Costa Rica as well as in other ecotourism destinations around the globe. At the same time, ecotourism provides visitors with a unique, unforgettable, and educational vacation. Basically, ecotourism is a win-win situation for both the tourists and the countries they visit.

After Reading

Complete the sentences.

1. ecotourism is the fastest growing trend in the travel industry.
2. Costa Rica is the world's top ecotourism destination.
3. At one time, Costa Rica had the highest rate of deforestation Latin America.
4. More than a quarter of Costa Rica's land is protected from development.
5. Two examples of renewable energy sources are wind and Solar power

9 Speaking

1. Work in pairs or groups. Think about the characteristics and benefits of ecotourism and make notes in the chart. Then list the names of places in your country that are good for ecotourism and the activities that are offered there.
2. Use your notes to discuss your ideas in class.

B. Write a letter to your friend from Britain (who has never been to Saudi Arabia), about a place in your country that you plan to visit.

1. Research and collect information about an important place in Saudi Arabia that you feel a visitor should see, or that a person who has never been to your country should learn about.
 - Think about the history of the place and why it is significant to the country's history and culture.

Hi Ahmed

I hope you are fine I am writing to you about my country and the beautiful places which I am visiting it next week . Saudi Arabia is a charming land full of exciting destinations that could behold your sight for a long time . it is a country where people used to travel only to religious pilgrims and for business purposes only . Now Saudi Arabia is welcoming all the tourists to explore thier beautiful country from Sea to desert Mountains to bustling cities and shopping malls to luxury dining there are so many places to most attractive places is Wadi Al Disah which is . located in the Southwest province of Tabuk

This place has some gorgeous elements of the glorious Grand Canyon and the magnificent Monument Valley . You will fall in love with the wondeful collection of sandston of sandstone columns . it has a dusty desert high grasses and palm trees that make your eyes astonished

I would really be glad to visit the place together

1. What kind of television programs do you like to watch? Give some examples.
2. What kind of programs do you dislike? Why?
3. Which programs listed here would you watch? Which wouldn't you watch? Explain.

Jeopardy! Tuesday, 9:30 P.M.

Jeopardy! is a unique American quiz show that features trivia in history, literature, the arts, culture, science, sports, geography, wordplay, and more. The show is famous for its unusual answer-and-question format, which requires contestants to phrase their responses in question form, having been presented with clues. The first episode of the show was aired on March 30, 1964, and went through different stages, as a daytime series and a nighttime show. On September 10, 1984, Jeopardy! returned as a daily series with Alex Trebek as host.

Hoy Monday, 9:00 A.M.

This morning show, recorded live in front of an audience, is broadcast in the United States, Central and South America, and parts of Europe. A team of hosts offers family-oriented entertainment. On today's program, the guest chef cooks up some Peruvian shrimp, and a prosperous businessman gives advice to members of the audience.

National Geographic Channel

Thursday, 8:00 P.M. The National Geographic Channel is a television channel that features documentaries about science and technology, animals and nature, exploration and culture, produced by the National Geographic Society. It provides authentic and inspiring content for different age groups of viewers. The channel is dedicated to sharing factual knowledge and promoting genuine interest in our world, in an innovative and entertaining manner. National Geographic Channel was originally launched in the Middle East in 1998, followed by National Geographic Adventure in 2007, National Geographic Wild in 2008 and National Geographic Abu Dhabi in 2009. Today, it is available in 25 languages, in over 143 countries.

CSI: Crime Scene Investigation Thursday, 9:00 P.M.

CSI is an American crime drama about a team of forensic scientists who investigate mysterious and unusual deaths. In tonight's episode, Grissom, Stokes, and Brown take on the puzzling case of a jogger killed in a park. At first the team suspects it is a strange accident. But they eventually discover that someone has been plotting a series of disturbing crimes.

Top Gear Wednesday, 9:30 P.M.

Top Gear is an award-winning British television series about cars. It was originally launched as a conventional motoring magazine show. Since its relaunch in 2002, the new version has developed its own humorous style. The program is estimated to have about 350 million viewers worldwide. The show has received acclaim for its style and presentation as well as criticism for its content and some of the cutting comments made by presenters. It remains, however, one of the most popular motoring series worldwide.

Sasuke Wednesday, 8:00 P.M.

This popular Japanese sports entertainment program airs twice a year. Each three-hour special covers an entire competition in which 100 fighters and athletes compete in one of the most challenging physical contests imaginable. The contestants attempt to complete four levels of increasingly difficult obstacle courses to win the title of Ninja Warrior.

2 Pair Work

Create your own idea for a TV program. Decide on the kind of program and the title. Then write a brief description of the program.

3 Grammar

Direct and Indirect Objects

A direct object is a noun or pronoun that receives the action of a verb.

A direct object answers the question what or who.

John wrote the poem.

John likes his new teacher.

An indirect object tells us to or for whom the action is done.

There must be a direct object for there to be an indirect object.

John wrote the poem for his mother.

John read the poem to the audience.

If there is a preposition, the indirect object goes after the direct object.

She gave the remote control to me.

If there is no preposition, the indirect object goes before the direct object.

She gave me the remote control.

When the direct object is a pronoun, the pronoun goes before the indirect object.

She gave it to me.

To and For Before Indirect Objects

Use to if the indirect object is receiving something. Use to with these verbs: bring, confess, give, hand, lend, offer, pass, pay, promise, read, sell, send, show, take, tell, and write.

Will you pass a pillow to me?

Note: The preposition to is not used when the indirect object comes before the direct object.

Will you pass me a pillow?

Use for if the indirect object is benefiting from some kind of help. Use for with these verbs: book, build, buy, cook, find, get, keep, leave, make, order, and reserve.

My parents bought a new TV for me.

Note: The preposition for is not used when the indirect object comes before the direct object.

His parents are buying him a new TV for his graduation.

With some verbs, the indirect object always follows the direct object, and the preposition for cannot be omitted: answer, cash, change, close, fix, open, prepare, pronounce, and translate.

Can you please translate the program for me?

A. Complete the conversation with for or to.

Alex: What happened in last night's episode of Fast and Safe?

Omar: I recorded it (1) for you. It was great.

Alex: Tell me about it.

Omar: Well, Alan wrote an email (2) to Ahmed. In it, he confessed (3) to him that he had tampered with the engine of the car he was driving. Ahmed kept reading the email (4) to himself. He couldn't believe that Alan would do such a thing. Then Alan tried to make up for it. He got a fantastic car (5) for Ahmed to drive in this show. He bought a new helmet (6) for him. He even sent a limo (7) to Ahmed's house, to drive him to the studio.

Alex: What did Ahmed do?

Omar: Well, he was angry at first. Then he demanded that Alan make a public statement on the air and promise that he would never do anything like that (8) to him again.

- B. Rearrange the words to create two sentences: one with the indirect object placed after the direct object, and another with the indirect object placed before the direct object.

Asma: What are you watching?

Noura: That game show with the teams of cooks. You know, the one where contestants need to prepare a 4-course meal as a team, plate it, and serve it to the judges.

Asma: Why would anyone want to compete in this kind of show? What do they get out of it? I don't know how you can watch this stuff. It's boring!

Noura: I get a kick out of it. Look! He's going to decorate that dish with flowers.

Asma: I can't believe he's going to put flowers on a meat dish. That's crazy. Why don't we turn off the TV and do something else?

Noura: No way! Don't touch that remote!

Asma: It bugs me to watch this. They pretend to be top chefs. But I'm positive they won't be allowed to do more than fry a couple of eggs after the end of this show. And they also pretend to be all friendly with each other.

Noura: I don't know. Some of them seem to know what they're doing.

Asma: I'm telling you, that contestant, there, is waiting for a chance to show off. He doesn't care about his teammates. He's in it to win for himself.

Noura: Relax. It's just a TV show.

Asma: C'mon. We're wasting our time watching this stuff. Don't be such a couch potato. What do you say we go shopping?

8 Reading

Before Reading

Television is popular around the world.
Why do you think it is so popular?
How much do you know about television?

A Brief Overview of the History of Television

Television was not invented overnight by a single person. The work of many people over a number of decades contributed to its evolution.

In the early days, two distinct schools of thought in technology influenced different researchers and the course of their investigation. The first one was based on the technology of Paul Nipkow's rotating disks that supported a mechanical television system, and the second one on an electronic television system that used a cathode-ray tube developed independently by two inventors, Campbell-Swinton and Rosing.

Paul Nipkow (1860-1940), who invented the Nipkow disk in 1884, was the first person to discover the scanning principle that allowed small portions of an image to be analyzed and transmitted. However, it is unclear whether Nipkow actually built a working prototype of his television system.

Electronic television is based on the development of the cathode-ray tube, which can still be found in modern television sets. Philo Farnsworth (1906-1971) was the first inventor to transmit a television image, a dollar sign, using the dissector tube which is the basis of all current electronic televisions. The American engineer started experimenting with electricity when he was 12, when he built an electric motor and produced an electric washing machine. He was still in high school when he conceived of his ideas for television.

A lot of people wrongly believe that color television is a recent idea. In actual fact, the earliest proposal for color television was patented in 1904, while in 1925 Zworykin filed his proposal for an all-electronic color television system. Commercial broadcasting, however, started in the early 50s, a quarter of a century later.

John Baird (1888-1946) is a researcher who is best remembered for inventing a mechanical television system, based on Nipkow's scanning disk idea. Actually, his work included a number of technological milestones in the history of television. He created the first televised pictures of objects in motion (1924), the first televised human face (1925), color television (1928), stereoscopic television, and television by infra-red light that were presented and demonstrated before the 1930s.

Vladimir Zworykin (1889-1982), the inventor of the iconoscope, a transmission device, as well as the kinescope, i.e. the cathode-ray tube, in 1929, was one of the first to demonstrate a television system with all the features of modern television, otherwise called "the tube." Most people in Britain that use the word tube to refer to television, fail to make the connection between the television set and the cathode-ray tube. Nor do people stop and think about the meaning of the word television, which refers to the transmission of images over a distance. In 1929 Zworykin became the director of electronic research at Radio Corporation of America (RCA), and was later promoted to vice-president in 1947. Zworykin invented many devices including the scintillation counter, a device for measuring radioactivity. He held more than eighty patents and received numerous awards for his work.

Louis W. Parker patented the "intercarrier sound system" in 1948, which is now used in all television receivers in the world. Without it, televisions would probably have been too costly for most people.

The plasma display monitor was invented in July 1964 by professors Bitzer and Slottow and their graduate student Robert Wilson. However, successful plasma television only became feasible later, after the development of digital and other technologies. A factor that delayed the commercial development of plasma display was connected with LCD or liquid crystal

Answer the questions.

1. Explain what the two main schools of thought were in the early days.
2. How did Philo Farnsworth transmit an image? What did he use?
3. How old is the concept of color TV?
4. Why is television called "the tube" by some people?
5. How did Parker's system affect developments?
6. Read the text again. Find each inventor's name, the name of his invention, and the approximate year. Write the information in the chart along with the effect that each invention had on the evolution of television.

Year	Inventor	Invention	Effects
1884	Paul Nipkow	scanning principle	that allowed small portions of an image to be analyzed and transmitted
1925	Zworykin	color television	for an all-electronic color television system
1929	Vladimir Zworykin	the iconoscope , a transmission device	was one of the first to demonstrate a television system
1964	professors Bitzer and Skottow and their graduate student Robert Wilson	The plasma display monitor	, successful plasma television only became feasible later, after the development of digital and other technologies

1. Make a list of your favorite TV shows and why you like them.
2. Talk about TV shows in groups and use the chart to make notes. Compare your lists and decide which shows are popular within your group.
3. Use the chart to find out about the rest of the groups in class and make notes. Organize and edit your notes in your groups. Compare findings in class.

Adjective Clauses and Relative Pronouns

An adjective clause is a dependent clause that describes or gives information about the noun that comes before it.

The language that he/she speaks at home is Arabic.

Relative pronouns relate clauses to nouns in adjective clauses. Use the relative pronoun who for people, and which and that for things.

Note: The relative pronoun that can also be used when talking about people in general. However, when a particular person is being referred to, who is preferred.

Relative Pronouns as Subjects of Adjective Clauses

Relative pronouns can be the subject of an adjective clause. Relative pronouns that are followed by a verb are subject pronouns. Subject pronouns must always be included.

I am someone who loves watching quiz shows on TV.

Relative Pronouns as Objects of Adjective Clauses

Relative pronouns can also be the object of an adjective clause. Relative pronouns that are followed by a noun or pronoun are object pronouns. Object pronouns can be omitted.

English is a language (that) many people find easy to learn.

Note: Whom is considered more correct than who when used as the object of an adjective clause. However, whom is very formal. In casual speech, either who is used or the relative pronoun is simply left out.

The TV personality (who[m]) I like best hosts Jeopardy! every Saturday night.

2 Reading

Before Reading

Read the passage and underline details that tell you how a computer virus and a biological virus are similar.

Computer Viruses: A Headache for Humans

A computer virus is a computer program that has the ability to infect a computer without the user's permission, or even knowledge. There are more than a few similarities between computer viruses and human viruses.

Biological viruses enter the body through some kind of direct contact with the body and attach themselves to a host cell. The virus spreads, and the resulting damage can include pain, suffering, or even death. Similarly, computer viruses enter a host file in your computer when you open an infected email attachment. This virus then spreads, resulting in damage that can include deletion of files, emailing of all the addresses in the computer's email address book, a slowing down of the system, or even fatal damage to the hard drive.

If these viruses are so damaging, why do people allow them to infiltrate their computers? Because people are tricked into it. Viruses are sent attached to email messages. These emails use a variety of tricks to fool the reader into opening up the attachment. For example, some of these emails are designed to appeal to people's emotions. The "YOU HAVE WON" virus included an attachment titled "A-Gift-For-You.txt.vbs". Users, thinking they had been sent a gift letter, opened the file, instantly releasing a virus and infecting their computer. Another common virus disguised as a personal message is "Koob." "Koob" is spread through messages sent through social networking sites. The emails have subject lines like, "You look funny on our new video." When users try to download the "video," what they really get is a virus.

Another common way email users are manipulated into opening attachments that contain viruses is with messages that appear to come from businesses that people frequently use. These typically include auction sites, delivery services, and financial institutions. One such virus is the "UPS/FedEx Delivery Failure." This email comes with a message informing the user that a package he or she had supposedly sent could not be delivered. Users are told to click on the attachment for a refund. In reality, of course, the attachment unleashes a virus.

Ironically, one virus-spreading email was disguised to look like an email about protecting the user's computer from viruses! The "Microsoft Patch" virus was spread through an email that urged the user to download a software patch to prevent viruses. This email even included the Microsoft™ icon, which fooled many into believing the email was legitimate. In reality, the "patch" was a virus. This virus was forwarded by millions of people, resulting in the infection of computers around the world.

1- A computer virus is a small software program that can spread from one computer system to another and cause interferences with computer operations

2- Computer viruses are a human invention

3- It's a virus that comes as an email attachment to a message about a problem with the delivery of a package. It tells the user to click on the attachment. The attachment contains a virus that gets into the computer

4- It is spread through an email that urges the user to download a software patch to prevent viruses

5- Firstly installing an original operating system installing anti-virus software and a firewall. Don't use unreliable removable media

3 Reading

Before Reading

1. What color is the room you are in now? How does the color make you feel?
2. Have you ever painted a room? If so, what color did you choose and why?

The Psychology of Color

I want you to imagine yourself in a room painted a light blue color. Now, imagine yourself in a vibrant red room. Do you think you would feel differently in each of these rooms? If you are like most people, you would feel calmer in the blue room and more energized in the red room. Why is this? Psychological studies have found that different colors can have different effects on mood and behavior.

People have a tendency to associate colors with where these colors appear in nature. So, for example, without realizing it we associate soft shades of blue with the sky and sea. These associations make blue a calming color for most people. Asuka Obata runs a spa in Kyoto, Japan. All the walls of the salon are blue. Obata says, "It is essential that we create a sense of peace and tranquility. The color blue helps us achieve this."

Red, however, is associated with fire and blood. So red is also associated with danger and vitality. The color red has even been shown to raise blood pressure! Adrian Vilas of Cordoba, Argentina, painted his office red. He says, "I like being surrounded by a color that gives me energy and inspiration." On the other hand, have you ever wondered why traffic lights and stop signs utilize the color red? To warn of danger, of course.

While we all share natural associations with certain colors, the same color may have a very different meaning to people of two different cultures.

The colors black and white provide a good example of how people can have different cultural responses to colors. In many cultures, black symbolizes death and mourning, and so black is the traditional color worn to funerals. However, in Asia it is not black that represents mourning, but white. So in Asia, white is the color people usually wear when they attend funerals.

Writing Prompt

Write a personal narrative about a problem or difficult situation you have experienced. Explain how you solved the problem or dealt with the situation. For example, you might write about a time your computer crashed the night before a report was due, or a time you were stuck at an airport overnight. Include grammar points from Units 1, 2, and 3.

A personal narrative is a story about something that happened to you.

Write Your Personal Narrative

1. Choose a problem or difficult situation you have experienced.
2. Think about the situation. How did it come about? How did you deal with it? Use the chart to organize your ideas.

Problem(s)	Solution(s)
I have visited Riyadh for the first time and one day I was lost and didnt know the way back home	I have stopped a taxi and phoned one of my relatives and let him talk to the taxi drive to desclibe the way back home

3. Think of a title for your narrative.
4. Write your narrative.

Developing Your Writing: The Introduction

The first paragraph of your writing is the introduction. The introduction should grab the reader's attention by expressing something interesting that makes the reader want to read more. The introduction should also include a topic sentence that states clearly what the essay is about. All the other sentences in the introduction should support the topic sentence.

As you write your introduction, ask yourself:

- Is this paragraph interesting and engaging? Will it make the reader want to know more?
- Does it include a topic sentence that clearly tells the reader what the essay is about?
- Do the other sentences support the topic sentence?

The Day My Computer Crashed

I'll never forget the last day of my freshman year at Abbingtion High School. The year had gone very well. I had made new friends, enjoyed my classes, and was expecting good grades in all of my courses. But something unexpected happened on the last day of the year.

I had done well in Mr. Martinez's history class all year. So I was not concerned when we were asked to write a final paper. In fact, I was even looking forward to it. I spent weeks in the library, researching my subject, taking notes, and organizing my ideas. I had started writing the essay a week before it was due. By the night before it was due, I had finished writing the essay and just needed to run a spell-check. But as soon as I began the spell check, the screen froze...
